OSCAR WINNER

Kate Winslet

The gifts from last year are certainly going to be blossoming through this year. It's going to be a time for even more success; we can expect a big move, transformation and change, certainly more power, more recognition, more appreciation. Her talents will be recognised for the carnelian and energetic outgoing personality that she performs on stage, ok we know her in the movies but I do see this courageous actress going back to centre stage doing live performances. As well as another box office hit. There will be talks and speculations of a pregnancy. She certainly will be thinking big, shining out in the limelight. Her intention this year is that she is going to make the most of it. There is going to be a feeling of more maturity, a true feeling of having strong conviction and faith. Her destiny both for herself and for those that matter the most to her is one of joy and personal fulfilment. This year is a part of a cycle which is very much linked to her career and her ambitions, talents, money and success. The next several months will be strongly connected to change; there will be births, divorce and legal battles, marriage, death of a situation and endings bringing about a new beginning. Someone very closely linked to her will experience the above and she will need to be strong for them. Generally speaking this has to be the words for more achievements as she stretches her muscles of influence, high respect in the UK, a lot of her time will be travelling between America and Great Britain, catching up with those from the past.

Kate's karma

Her karma is to overcome obstacles by personal creativity. She is very original, independent and confident to the point of being a great leader for others. She believes if anything can be done it should be done. She likes to prove others wrong, she is a natural pioneer. She will always find her way and others will follow her and succeed by her example. Fear is not in her makeup or at least when it is you will not be able to see it. She is not one for coming second best and doesn't play to anyone's fiddle. She likes to believe that she is the one who is orchestrating her life, she is extremely competitive with herself. Never content until the job is done. Her self criticism and harshness can cause her though to be dogmatic, wilful and stubborn. The weaker side of her nature is her deep understanding for human sorrow; this allows her to show her passionate side of her nature. There is a charitable side to her that is quite happy to secretly heal and pour love onto a needy cause, the spiritual side of her nature is very much under wraps to the point that you may never see this and it's never talked about.
